

Lyrics Your Door written by Miss Manolita

i stand never front your door i search never your way for you are better your place i see never your face

Refrain

i hear never your pray
i don't see your heart inside i have think you are so kind

and i jump on the street oh baby because i need
because i need

boy don't touch me again please get out of my brain don't contact me anymore leave me forever out from your Door

Refrain

follow me never on my way i don't trust you again please leave me and my life alone you were my number one

Refrain

i see not your heart inside

i surch never your way
